Senator John Williams
United States Senate
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

May we respectfully urge you to support enactment of laws providing equal opportunity for Negroes in all areas of social endeavor. We believe that such laws will shape the moral climate of the future and make the use of violence and civil disorder as a means of gaining attention a poor alternative to individual Negroe initiative.

For example: Open Housing can set the moral climate of the future by outdating the fear many of us whites have of selling our houses to perfectly fine Negroes because of what other white people will say.

Clearly, some Negroes who have been integrated into Society were foremost in efforts to subdue the recent violence. These Negroes have found that individual initiative pays. This can be made true for all Negroes by the institution of real equal opportunity in our country.

Thank you for your attention to our thoughts and for the job you do for us in our government.

Very truly yours,
