U.S. SENATE

John Boyd, President of the National Black Farmers Association, has worked with Alex Pires for 16 years helping black farmers

ALEX PIRES came from nothing... his parents had 8TH grade educations... he washed dishes every day for two years to pay for college...received a full scholarship to law school...worked for the U.S. Department of Justice...practiced law, representing family farmers, including black farmers, for 26 years. Was the lead attorney in the black farmers class action case resulting in $1.1 billion dollars for black families...invested all of his money into Delaware small businesses, and even started a community bank.
